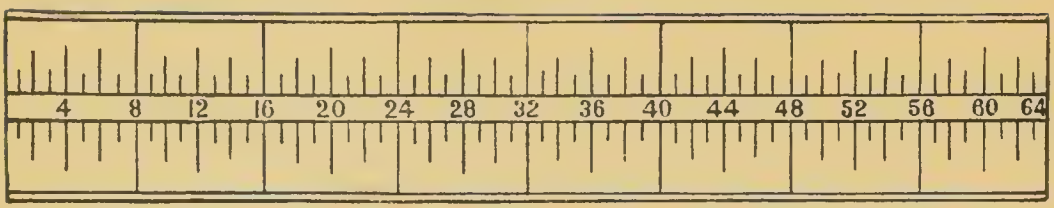
DETROIT, MICH.

AND INCLUDING A

Canada Coins and Tokens.

NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 9, 1894.



AMERICAN COIN SCALE.

Unless otherwise stated all the Coins and Medals described on the following pages are guaranteed authentic and original issues.

In the statements of condition the Cataloguer has rigidly adhered to the high standard adopted by him and has exercised most scrupulous care in the entire work.

Orders by mail should be sent to parties entrusted with their execution so as to reach destination at least twenty-four hours before the sale.

Unless special arrangements are made all bills are payable on delivery of purchases; deposits will be required from unknown buyers.

Except when the word "Set" or "Lot" is used, all the Coins and Medals are sold at so much per piece, and bids must be made accordingly.

This entire collection will be exhibited in the Auction Room up to 1 P. M. on the day of sale. No Coins or Medals can be shown while the sale is progressing.

Thick paper copy, neatly priced in red ink, after sale, 30 cents.

THE STEARNS COLLECTION.

"Coins of all Ages and Countries," the property of Mr. Frederick Stearns, of Detroit, and Coins and Tokens of Canada, the property of a collector, catalogued by Mr. Frossard, were sold by Daniel R. Kennedy at his auction rooms in Fifth Avenue, New York, on the 9th of February last. The first portion of the catalogue contained the ancient coins, and, with few exceptions, they were common-place and brought prices commensurate. The most conspicuous (more noteworthy than the prices), were the false pieces, mention of which was omitted in the catalogue. They were, with one exception (64), cast. We designate these frauds by lot; 9 (1 piece genuine), 15, 24, 28, 35 (only four original out of 15 pieces), 37, 50 and 51 (apparently genuine but not guaranteed), 64, 65, 66 and 67 (each containing one false), 69 (2 false), 87 (12 pieces, all false), and 92; 132 was a modern fabrication made for imposition, there being no contemporary medals of the period mentioned. Lot 297 proved to be a genuine gold coin, not "plated" nor "an ancient counterfeit;" "argent on edge" of lots 341 to 345, is not intelligible to all. It would be much better to call them restrikes—a subsequent use of the dies after original striking, and generally for speculative purposes. In their character they are, in our judgment, but one grade above a counterfeit. We have previously (October Journal, 1892) expressed a similar opinion. It is a practice that ought to cease. Lot 351, ship sailing r. (catalogue says "schooner"), R. 1858, was a fraud; it was a specimen of the common S, C and C, having the inscription removed from the surface of the reverse, when the large date was outlined and left in relief by cutting out around the figure and the entire field. The thinness of the piece (made so by the process named) will at once attract attention. The detestable work is fairly executed, and likely to pass muster with very many; we regret to announce its sale for 2.75. 358, a McDermott token, was positively a cast. 369, Side view Penny token, 1839, "Cast in Montreal, good; original, very rare." The punctuation here must be carefully noted. A hasty glance might lead one to think he was reading the description of an original: what matters it where the piece was cast, since originals were struck from dies! Lot 375, a Half penny, with the same description, but punctuated differently. 403 was perhaps the most glaring imposition in the catalogue. It was simply a miserable counterfeit of the Twenty-cent piece of 1858, and the same may be said of the Five-cent of 1871, lot 411. If the Canadian authority named in the catalogue passed upon these, it is time for his impeachment. 468, purporting to be a nickel Cent of 1856, was an alteration. There were a few pieces and prices worthy of mention in this sale, and we should like to have noticed them, but it would be a grave error, we think, to devote the limited space available in these columns to the least important. It is time that traffic in these fraudulent pieces should cease, if the status of the science of Numismatics is to be maintained. We are opposed to all manner of imitations. There can be, in our opinion, no good reason for their manufacture or existence. For the protection of collectors, descriptions and type illustrations must answer.

PROEM.

Mr. Frederick Stearns, the owner of the coins described in this catalogue, has been for many years an enthusiastic collector in several branches of natural history, notably in Conchology. As a traveller, he has visited the most distant and important countries, completing in 1893 a tour around the world. Incidentally in his travels, he made large collections in the domain of art, especially the art objects of Japan, Corea, China, and India. Most of these collections, numbering in the aggregate over 15,000 specimens, are now installed in the Detroit Museum of Art, his munificent donation to that institution.

The coins of this collection are largely classic, and comprise many unusual types, from original finds made in Asia Minor by Turkish and Armenian peasants in soil which, during unnumbered generations, has been the tramping ground or highway between Asia and Southern Europe for myriads of people. These finds were purchased for Mr. Stearns by Dr. E. G. Shepard, a missionary and physician, since deceased, of Aintab, near old Antioch. The other and miscellaneous coins are largely the result of personal purchases in bazaars and curio-shops all over the world; a few only of the purchases were made at auction sales.

The collection when received by the cataloguer was arranged in a unique and original manner, each coin being mounted in red wax on descriptive card, giving every detail of attribution and discovery. In this shape the collection would have proved of immense attraction to a museum or even a private collector. Finding, however, that few of the coins would adhere to their wax-bed, and that with the cards, boxes, and necessary wraps, the collection became unwieldy and unsuitable for public auction sale, it was found necessary to change the arrangement and offer the coins in the usual method of such sales; but very many of the cards and notes have been preserved and placed with the coins, and will be found by purchasers in the numbered envelopes. A few, notably among the copper coins, are still mounted on cards as arranged by Mr. Stearns himself. These will give purchasers a very correct idea of the superior system of classification and display adopted by that gentleman, and extended in modified forms to all his other collections.
